

Impeccable heritage style and exceptional modern-day performance

Welcome to the Sash Window Collection
from Mercury. Beautiful sliding sash windows with no compromise.

The Sash Window Collection has been meticulously designed to reflect the classic lines of a traditional timber sliding sash window. It is why they are accepted for use in conservation areas, where original aesthetics are paramount.

It is also why they are chosen to bring classic style to modern homes. At the same time, they have all the advantages of a modern-day window. They are secure, easy to maintain and offer excellent energy efficiency benefits.

The classic heritage choice

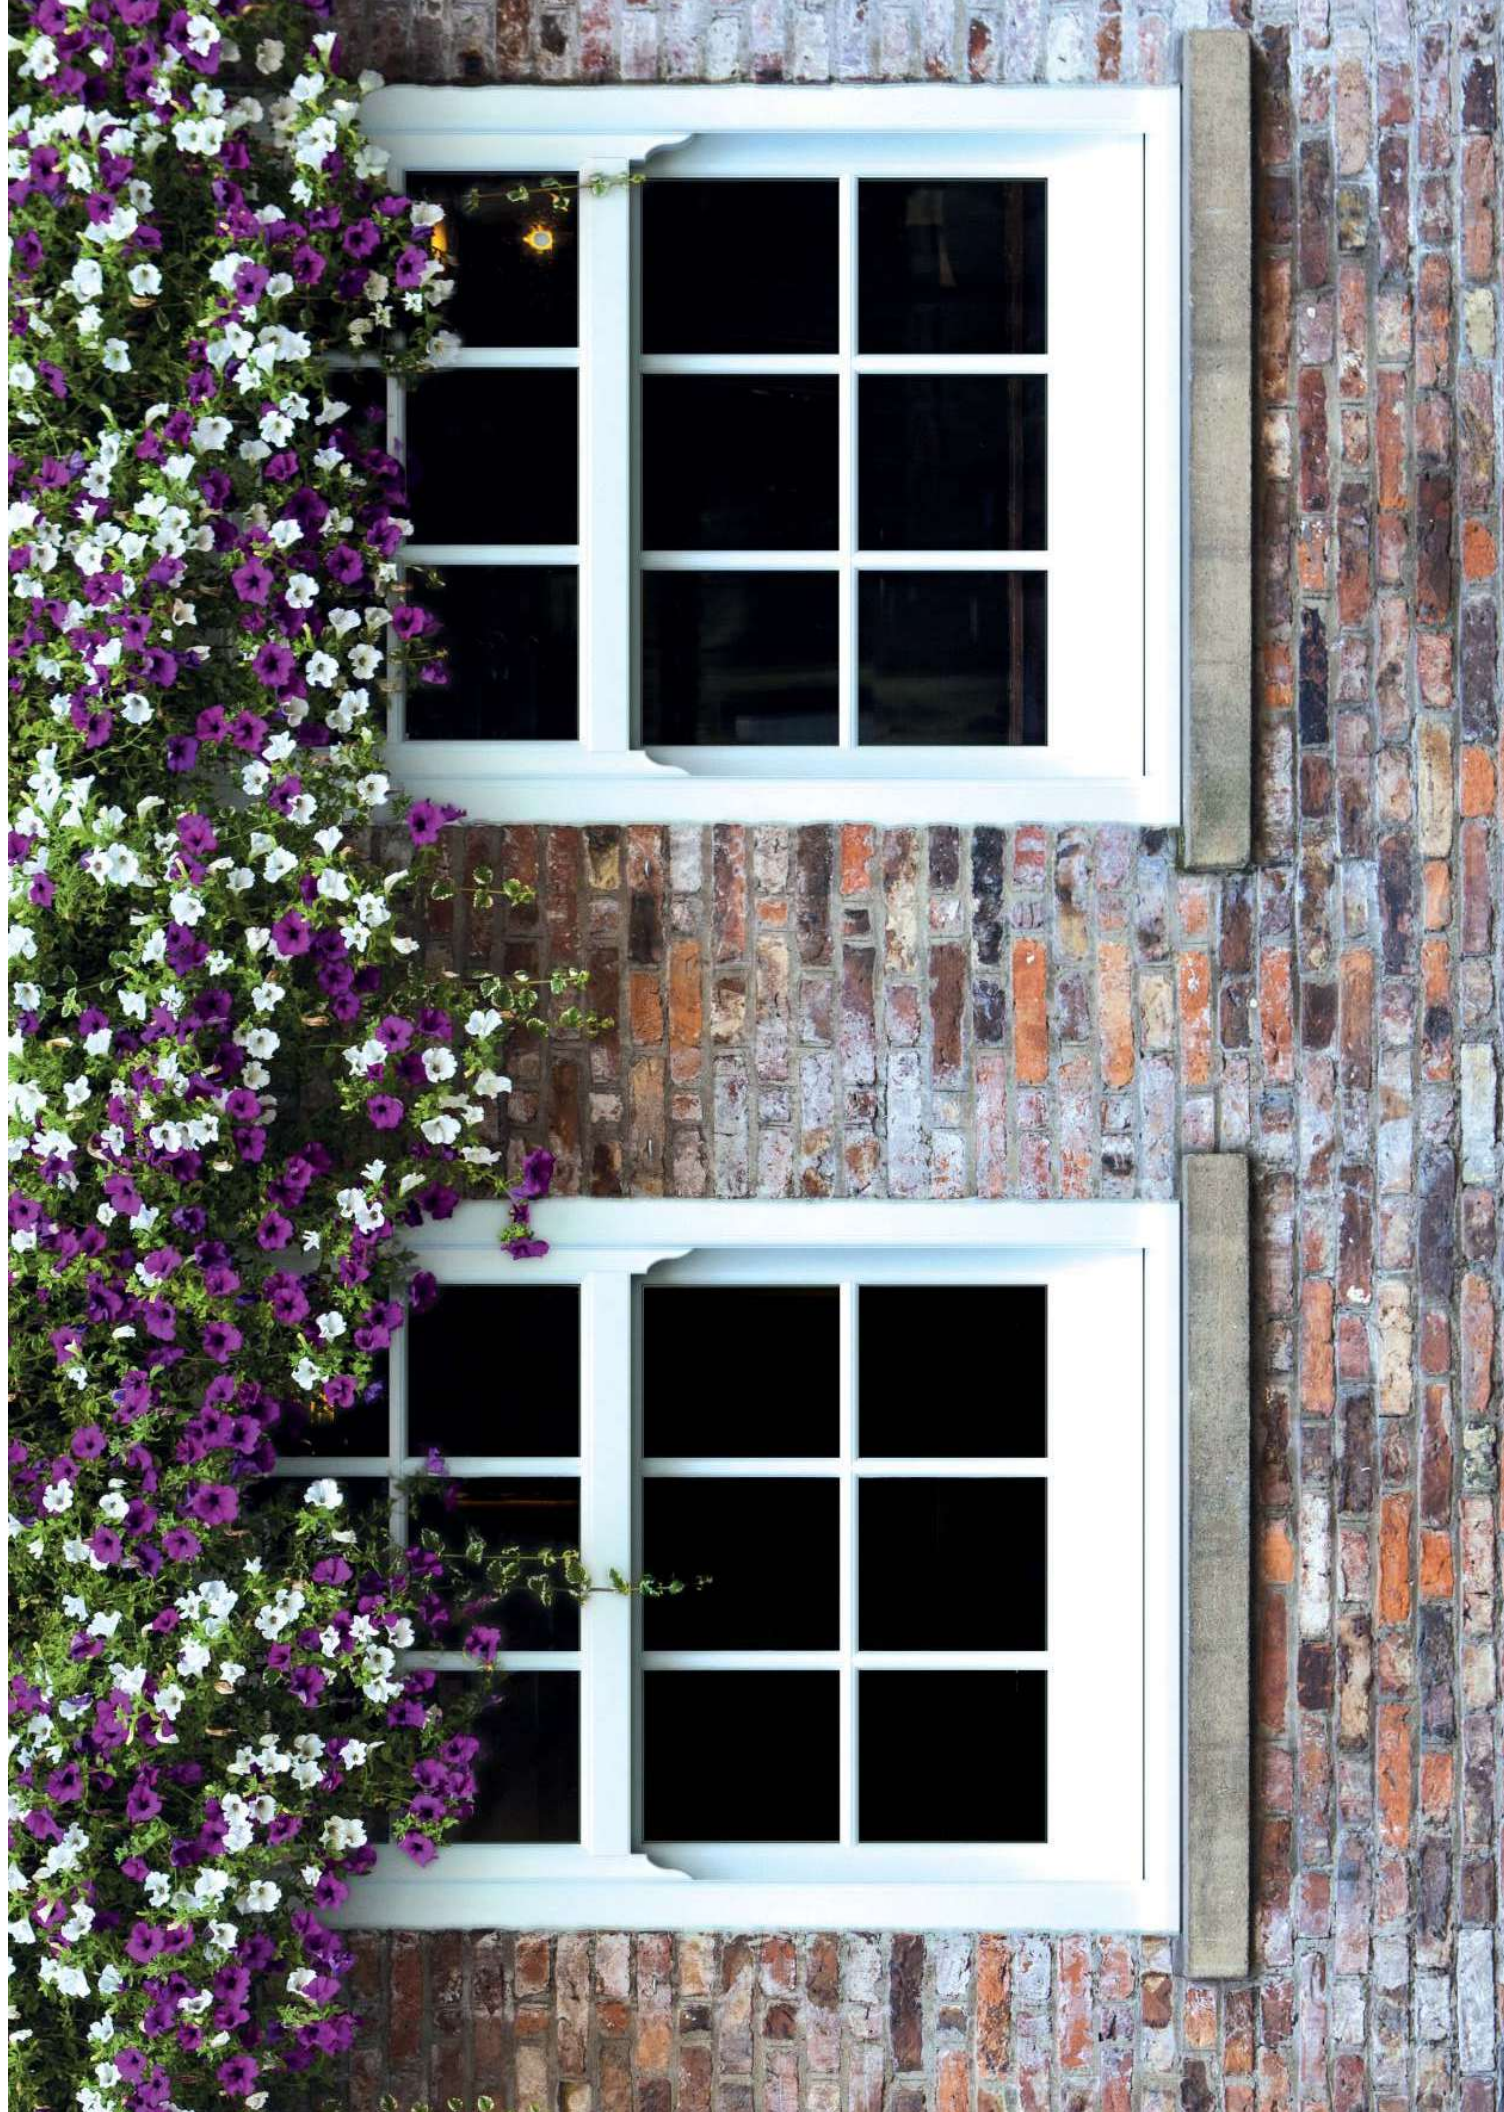

Every element of a traditional timber box sash window is replicated. There is ovolo detailing on the frame, sash, beads and cills and there is a deep bottom rail and equally sized top and bottom panes offer the classic proportions.

The 128mm front to back dimension means it can be a direct replacement for a timber box sash window, with no packing or filling required. And optional Georgian bars and run-through sash horns help recreate different heritage eras perfectly.

This exquisite detail is why the windows from the Sash Window Collection are accepted for use in heritage buildings, even those in conservation areas where sympathetic restoration is crucial.

When superior attention to heritage
detail is required,
the Sash Window Collection is the answer.

A beautifully contemporary choice

Sliding sash windows are a stunning choice for modern homes.

Because while windows from the Sash Window Collection offer outstanding heritage aesthetics, they can also be designed to offer pared-back elegance. Take away the run-through horns, choose a contemporary colour and add sophisticated hardware and you have a crisp, modern window that suits all styles of properties.

A photograph of a curved interior hallway with a vaulted ceiling. The walls are a light beige color. On the right side, there is a long, white, horizontal radiator. The ceiling features several windows: three rectangular windows with white frames and a large, arched skylight at the far end. The windows look out onto a balcony with a black metal railing and some greenery. A semi-transparent teal rectangular box is centered over the image, containing white text.

With the Sash Window Collection you can bring a classic window design into the present day.

Two choices of finish

With the Sash Window Collection from Mercury, you can choose how your window is constructed. Whichever option you choose, the result will make a beautiful statement that enhances your home.

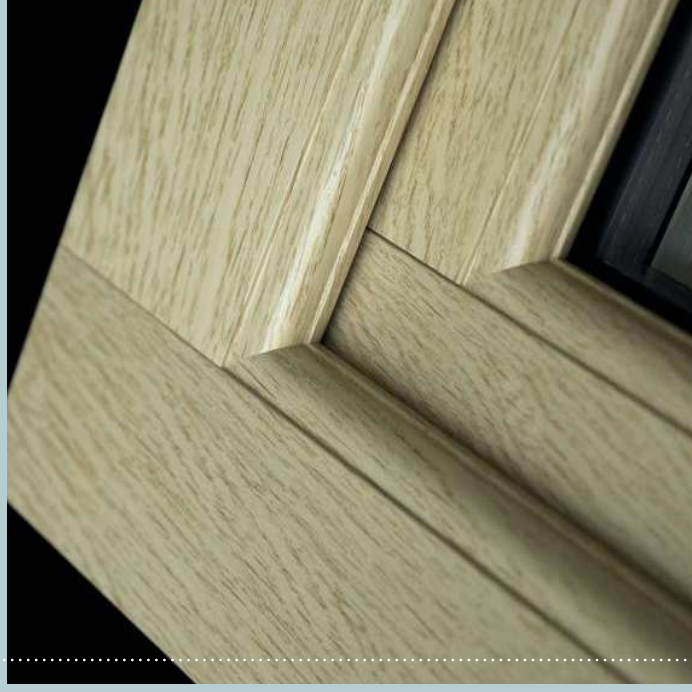

Whether your choice is classical, contemporary or somewhere in between, you can personalise your Sash Windows to suit your home and your style.

• Mechanically Jointed

When heritage authenticity is essential, opt for the mechanically jointed option. Mechanically jointed windows recreate the jointed appearance of a traditionally constructed timber window perfectly and offer a high-level finish.

• Welded

When you want to balance the heritage and the modern, opt for the welded option with its traditional streamline mitred corners.

Safe, secure and energy efficient

TEN-YEAR GUARANTEE

The Sash Window Collection beautifully replicates timber sliding sash windows of yesteryear. However, they offer much more than exceptional looks. They also offer exceptional safety, security and energy efficiency – everything you'd expect from a modern-day double-glazed window, including a ten-year guarantee.

Beautifully Practical

Windows in the Sash Window Collection slide open using balance mechanisms instead of the cords and weights of original timber framed sliding sashes. It means they're much easier to use and much more reliable than their timber counterparts for years of trouble-free operation.

Both top and bottom panes tilt inwards when required, a feature that makes the outer glass easy to keep clean as well as adding additional ventilation.

Child safety catches can be fitted if required, to keep your family safe.

Reassuringly Secure

The Sash Window Collection are robustly designed to meet all the latest regulations for security. To upgrade to the highest standards of security, you can specify Secured by Design – the accredited windows. Secured by Design – the Police Preferred Specification – provides a recognised standard for all security products that can deter and reduce crime.

Energy Efficient

The energy efficiency of windows is measured with Window Energy Ratings (WER), which are similar to the ratings you see on domestic appliances where A+ is the most energy efficient. All replacement windows must have a WER of at least C.

The windows in the Sash Window Collection are A+ as standard, so you can be assured you are getting the very best in thermal efficiency.

Intelligently engineered features such as pile seals prevent draughts and unobtrusive flush gaskets add to the benefits too.

British designed and British made

Every one of your windows will be custom-made to order by the skilled fabrication team at Mercury, a British company based in Gloucestershire. Founded in 2002, Mercury is a name renowned in the industry for its expertise in manufacturing sliding sash windows. It is why it is one of the UK's biggest manufacturers of this elegant window.

Mercury partners with carefully selected independent installation and building companies throughout the UK. Every partner installation company has the same commitment to high standards and attention to detail as Mercury. Together, they form a partnership you can trust when it comes to sliding sash windows for your home.
